It was the final game of the Polo Association championship series between the Rockaway and Meadowbrook first teams for the Astor gold cup, and it resulted in Secon a brilliant victory for the Rockaways by 7 goals to 614, thus winning by the close margin of three-quarters of a goal.

Last year was the first time the game has been played on grounds thrown open to the public free of charge since the Sixth Race-Divide, Clymena. witnessed by large crowds, and the final ence. The championship games then were witnessed by large crowds, and the final game, between the Myoplas and Country can, Club, of Westchester, was witnessed by fully 10,000 people.

Few admirers of the game got another cock. chance to see pole played until about a fort-night age, when the Riding and Driving Brendoo. Club, of Brooklyn, held a handleap tournament at Prospect Bark Parade Ground just prior to the championship competition. which was terminated by yesterday's final furlough

The public had not forgotten the flerco struggle of the year previous, and they turned out about ten thousand or more strong at each game until the final, yesterday afternoon, when there were over twenty thousand people present. 950

Many were in four-in-hand coaches, drags, 937

957 the and traps, both private and public, while the outside of the immense throng was encircled with thousands of vehicles and conveyances of every description.

The only drawback was that the arena a in which the game was played was not 387 380 sufficiently large to admit of all hands 388 getting a good view of the game, although 391 more than the regulation space was used, the actual playing ground being 900 feet by 550 feet and the space roped off 1,000 feet

The game was started shortly after 4 ye o'clock, with the teams lined up as fol-

NEW STEAMER A PUZZLE. Double or Single Breasted, Plant Investment Company's Grand Duchess

a Mystery to Shipping Men. There will arrive in this port during the latter part of this week a large, fine, brand-new and very mysterious steamship. Not a shipping man in the harbor knows to what purpose the big vessel is to be put. She is owned by the Plant Investment Company and has just been completed by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company. Ever since her construction was decided upon the greatest secrecy has been maintained regarding her ultimate destination and use.

When she was launched in January last no one knew what she was to be named until the very moment of launching, when tended exclusively for the use of women passengers.

Her owners, among whom are C. P. Huntington, H. B. Plant and C. B. Orcust, have maintained the most absolute secrecy concerning the reason for the building of so large a steamer.

The object of her coming to this port was learned yesterday. She is to undertake a twenty-four hours' trial trip at sea, for the purpose of testing her speed. She must show nineteen knots an hour.

Some difficulty has been experienced this year to fill the three classes, and at one time the races were declared off, owing to the lack of entries and the apparent apathy with which the closing races of the club were received by the yacht owners.
